"LODGE OF SORROW"

Maysville Elks Pay Beautiful Tribute To Their Departed Brothers

Impressive Service and Large Audience Presents
---Dr. Bonn's Eloquent Address

"The faults of our Brothers we write upon the sand; Their virtues on the Tablets of Love and Memory."

It is a solemn and beautiful tribute the Elks pay to their departed brothers each year when they hold their "Lodge of Sorrow."

Maysville Elks are never remiss in this impressive custom and yesterday afternoon at Washington opera house the outpouring of the public to hear and observe the services was very large, many ministers being present, and a number from other cities.

The program, which was published in a recent issue of The Ledger, was carried out to the letter.

The vocal and instrumental music, the old exercises, the prayers of Rector Fielding were most heart-touching because they brought forth anew the memories of the many sterling citizens and Elks who now rest in peace on the other shore.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight Sherman Arn, in his opening address, was at his best and his brief remarks sank deep into the hearts of all, making an impression sincere and lasting.

Of course, the eulogy of the occasion was the principal part of the services and Rev. Robert Lee Bonn, the orator, seemed inspired upon the subject and thrilled and pleased his large audience by his eloquence and the force and pathos of his sermon. He spoke on "The Hereafter and the Immortality of the Human Soul."

His remarks were so clearly and beautifully given that we are pleased to give an abstract of his sermon on the third page of this issue.

Those cousins out west or back east—you don't hear from them so often now. You each have new friends, new interests. But after all, blood is thicker than water and your picture and pictures of the other members of your family would be welcomed by them—especially for Christmas.

COVERING A CYCLOPE BY TELEPHONE.

One night I was handling the "desk" on a Texas newspaper. Right at my elbow—for the telephone was ever my right-hand right bower—was a telephone. It started with a bang. "Here's your party; wants you."

"Hello! Is that you, Clem?" "Yes; got a story for you." "Let it come." "Cyclone wiped our little town a while ago."

LYING IN BED.

(From "Tremendous Trifles," by Chesterton.) The tone now commonly taken toward the practice of lying in bed is hypocritical and unhealthy. Instead of being regarded as a matter of personal convenience and adjustment, it has become to be regarded by many as if it were a part of essential morals to get up early in the morning. It is upon the whole part of practical wisdom; but there is nothing good about it or bad about its opposite. Misers get up early in the morning, and burglars, I am informed, get up the night before.

NO THANKSGIVING PROVERB.

"Japanese bravery is perhaps due to Japanese pessimism," said Yasutaro Numano, Japanese Consul to San Francisco. "The Japanese have a black strain of pessimism in their veins. This is evidenced by their proverbs."

"There is one proverb, which, in its disparagement of the human lot, is perhaps the most pessimistic proverb in the world. It runs:

"To revenge yourself on your enemy—live."

Roper, youngest Mrs. John Roper covering from cover.

SPORTING NOTES.

President Gableman of the Portsmouth Ohio State League team has announced the sale of Outfielder Baggan, Catcher Francisco and First Baseman Edwards to the San Antonio club of the Texas League.

Charles A. Bender, the great Indian pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, Saturday signed a Federal League contract and will play with either Brooklyn or Baltimore. Rube Marquard of the New York Giants has also jumped.

"Home Run" Baker, third baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Hans Lobert, third baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, will probably sign Federal League contracts in the next day or two. Ty Cobb, who draws $15,000 a year from the Detroit Americans, denies the report that he will jump.

Age is age. But just the same a four-year-old auto looks 40 years older than a four-year-old horse.

DOLL AUCTION

Next Saturday For Benefit of the Health League Which Needs Assistance.

The Woman's Club will hold a doll auction Saturday, December 12, at Miss Luman's store, for the benefit of the Health League.

Each member is urgently requested to call at once at Mrs. T. M. Russell's to select a doll, dressed or undressed, to give for the auction.

The Health League is in urgent need of assistance and each member can do her part with very little trouble and small outlay of money, if she will help the club to carry out this idea. The public will please watch for further notices of this unique and attractive auction.

And it would help some if there was a law compelling the fellows who do not own autos to keep their mufflers closed.

21,976 FORDS SOLD IN SEPTEMBER

The Ford Motor Co. announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars. This was a gain of 11,379 cars over September 1913. This is significant not only because it shows that the Ford production is rapidly being increased to meet the stupendous influx of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Ford Motor Company is maintaining the 300,000 car-schedule necessary to give Ford purchasers between August 1st, 1914 and August 1st, 1915, a share of Ford profits.

We have just received a car-load of the new 1915 models, and can give you immediate delivery. There's nothing to gain by waiting, so order now and enjoy your car this fall and winter.
